#750
LMT

*Wide open and unguarded stand our gates,
Portals that lead to an enchanted land.*

*Here, it is written, Toil shall have its wage
And Honor honor, and the humblest man
Stand level with the highest in the law.*

HIGH SCHOOL

Winchester, Massachusetts

Preface . . .

We, the Class of 1952, have inherited a world torn apart by war and strife. Now it is up to us to shoulder our responsibility and help hold this crumbling world together, help make a reality of our last best hope for peace. For doing this we have been educated, have been encouraged, have been fully prepared. We are now ready to step forth and take our place in the adult world, all the richer for having spent our formative days at Winchester High School.

In Memoriam . . .

WILLIAM EDWARD VIOLANTE

"Billy" Violante was one of us. He was a typical student at Winchester High, liked and respected by his teachers, coaches, and classmates. On the misty evening of November 2, 1951, he was killed in Korea. We, the graduating class, knowing that many of us may be called upon to follow in his footsteps, can only hope that we shall be as ready as he to make the supreme sacrifice.

Aberjona of 1952

First Row: A. Smith, C. Biase, B. Hadley, N. Deminico, M. Dee, S. Norian, M. Dexter, B. Nelson, S. Frotten, D. Horn, M. Mooney, R. Peel. Second Row: C. Crockett, J. Macaulay, J. Lynch, H. Dellicker, S. Morton, Mr. Ulin, J. O'Neil, C. Murphy, C. Zimmerman, R. Traut, D. Lazzaro, P. Lanigan, J. Messier. Third Row: P. DeAngelis, H. Hogan, M. Briggs, M. Morgan, J. Chapman, M. Reid, S. Kinney, J. Bramhall, A. Weafer, M. Chick, L. Stevens, C. Padelford, C. Keefe, J. Collins, M. Bostwick, C. Ambrose, M. Smith, D. Greer, C. Murray. Fourth Row: J. Haggerty, J. Flaherty, J. Snell, R. MacKenzie, W. Carleton, P. Leverette, P. Coon, J. Gould, M. Neagle, D. Giacalone, B. Gerbick, M. Davis, N. McDevitt.

Since early fall, when the first call came for those who wished to be on the Aberjona staff, over one-third of the senior class, with the advice of Mr. Ulin, diligently completed all the necessary details which go into presenting a yearbook of lasting remembrance.

This staff, with Editor-in-Chief Carolyn Padelford and Managing Editor Joan O'Neil, will be long remembered due to the "newer, bigger, and more exciting Aberjona" it has published. The unprecedented number of ads ever collected for a W. H. S. yearbook made possible the vivid red color, innumerable cartoons and candids, more intricate page make-up, and added pages. Sales were boosted higher than ever before, much credit due to the recorded Christmas music and the year's most hilarious assembly, both sponsored by the Aberjona.

Sona Norian worked unceasingly in setting up the book, and other stalwarts, whose efforts were indispensable, were Judy Bramhall, Mary Jane Davis, and Cathy Murray on ads, Helen Hogan as typist, Todd Wallis and Jackie Chapman, artists, and Betty Moss as creative writer.

Now, with treasured memories of numerous deadlines, commotion over photographs, the final hectic weeks before that last March 1 deadline, their discussions with the printer, their difficult decisions, and finally, the finished product, the editors and their staff present the "'52 ABERJONA."

To Will B. Skerry

Latin Scholar . . .

Philosopher . . .

Friend . . .

do we, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-two, dedicate our Aberjona.

His keen sense of humor, his kindness, and his abundant knowledge of human nature as well as of the "passive periphrastic" have won our respect and a place in our hearts forever.

Our Administration . . .

DR. NORRIS AND MR. GRINDLE

DR. FORBES H. NORRIS, Superintendent

MR. WADE L. GRINDLE, Principal

They have directed our advancement in knowledge, character, leadership and service to mankind. They have represented our school, guided our faculty, and have helped raise Winchester High in the esteem of others.

To Dr. Norris and Mr. Grindle we give our most humble thanks.

... and Faculty

Skerry, F. Finnegan, H. Knowlton, R. Hayward, G. Curtis.

During the past four years at Winchester High School, we, the Class of '52, have established a fine record. Much of the credit, however, is due the faculty, and to them we owe our gratitude. Their enthusiasm and interest in us and in our activities has been unlimited. They have been our support in everything we've undertaken and accomplished. We have benefited not just through learning, but through learning from them.

ANNA MARIA STRANIERI

Anna is working hard to get into the laboratory; that's right, she wants to be a lab technician . . . sports and food are her favorite interests . . . she would love to be a millionaire and travel all over the world but, "Oh shoot," she says, "I'll never do it" . . . everyone knows she can't miss.

Chorus; Philosophy Club; Thrift Club; Science Club; French Club; Library Club; Hockey.

DONALD HUNT SWANSON

Good-natured, friendly . . . Don is a hot man with a trumpet . . . like most of us, his pet dislike is getting up in the morning . . . main interests include sports, food, women . . . next year Northeastern will gain Don.

Band; Orchestra; Science Club; Baseball.

SAMUEL STOWELL SYMMES

Six feet? Of course—he drinks Symmes' milk . . . whether on the mound, on the basketball court or in his band uniform, Stowell's consideration and friendly spirit towards others stands out . . . he has (with the help of his faithful companion) attempted to gain weight, but has found this a major problem . . . college may offer a solution.

Varsity Basketball; Varsity Baseball; Traffic Squad; Orchestra; Science Club; Math Club; French Club; Football; Varsity Club; Secretary-Treasurer, Band; A. A. Executive Board.

ALAN LOVETT THOMAS

Although Al's avocations are photography and railroads, he still finds time to tinker with his model A Ford . . . Al is a firm believer in school holidays observed in the most restful manner . . . this silent, dynamic lad plans to join the Army after graduation—take heed ye Rusksies!

ROBERT RUSH TRAUT

Quiet, good-natured . . . although confused by Mrs. Stacy's tests, he seems to do all right by them . . . gets his grip on a good many A's . . . will eat anything edible . . . plays both saxophone and clarinet . . . plans to wow some middle sized college with his ability to get good grades.

National Honor Society; Band; Orchestra; Science Club; Math Club; Rifle Club; Red and Black.

HENRY CHARLES VALCOUR, JR.

Shy, but very cordial and sincere . . . Hank hails from Medford, and can often be seen driving around in a flashy red convertible . . . his spare time is devoted to boats or guns, and he wishes someone would donate some money to the Rifle Club, of which he is president . . . next year Hank heads for M. I. T.

President, Rifle Club; Math Club; Science Club; Track; Aberjona; Cross Country.

TODD WALLIS

Popular . . . all-around . . . friendly . . . does everything well . . . Todd's hobbies include sports and art work, but he saves plenty of time for food and women . . . wishes that week-ends were longer . . . his secret ambition is to be a jet pilot, but he'll head for Bowdoin first.

Captain, Golf; Varsity Hockey; A. A.; Student Council; Red Cross; Dauber's Club; Vaudeville; Red and Black; Aberjona.

ARLENE MARY WEAVER

An ardent Ted Williams fan, with great hopes for the Red Sox to become the next pennant winner . . . WHS can look forward to another math teacher from the Weaver family as Arlene will enter Salem Teacher's College in the fall.

Spanish Club; Curtain and Cue; Badminton; Philosophy Club; Red and Black; Vaudeville; Field Hockey.

CORALYN WHITING

Lyn "Always in a hurry" Whiting is noted for her speed, her ready smile, her stick-to-it-iveness and swell personality . . . she fears any kind of test and is confused by geometry . . . Lyn likes Vermont, French fries, Vermont, stock car races, Vermont, dogs, and Vermont! . . . she leaves WHS regretting that she couldn't leave sooner . . . aiming for Colby Junior College.

Orchestra; Spanish Club; Executive Board; French Club; Thrift Association; Red Cross; Field Hockey.

Class History

Swarming eagerly between the musty walls of Wadleigh, the tottering edifice, we, as green, bewildered, artless, and apprehensive freshmen, launched our illustrious career in W. H. S. In an effort to curb our fervent zeal, three new teachers were sent to reinforce the faculty, Mr. Jason, Miss Regan, and Mrs. Bartlett. The disorganized mob began to attain some semblance of order as we conducted our first class elections. Chosen to guide this teeming mass of potential brilliance were Bill Carleton as president, Mike Neagle as vice-president, Diane Greer as secretary, and Joan O'Neil as treasurer. As we review this first year, these things stand out in our memories: our first social affair, the Pep Dance; initiation into the wonders of mid-years and finals; basketball on donkey back; the few who made big time in the Vaudeville Show; impromptu swimming pool in the auditorium caused by a broken pipe; the budding athletes on our freshman teams; the three freshman girls who cheered their way to varsity; and finally our oft-cited brilliance began to manifest itself as we compiled the finest scholastic record that year.

Our second year started with a bang as we gave our whole-hearted support to a dance to get pants for the band! The big building trembled as we took it by storm. Leading us in our attack were Dud Samoiloff, Jost Michelsen, Annette Barbaro, and Earl Carrier. We remember Cynny Hill swimming the Aberjona on a bet; the arrival of two new teachers, Mr. Ulin and Mrs. Burns; H. M. S. Pinafore; the centennial celebration; the great feeling of pride as the class play was photographed in Life; the vain crusade for cool, clear water; Mr. Kotkov copping the post of Language Department Head. And so we closed our two years as down-trodden underclassmen and moved on to take our place among the big names of school society.

At long last here we were, full-fledged upperclassmen, ready and willing to take on the responsibilities that came with the freshly won prestige. First to feel the effects of our energetic minds and hands was the Red and Black which our journalism classes eagerly rearranged. We soon discovered that the task of appointing the important class committees fell upon the office of class president and so it was that we elected Ron MacKenzie to this post, ably supported by Langdon Smith as vice-president, Mimi Briggs as secretary, and Charlie Murphy as treasurer. Glittering stones found an answering sparkle in the eyes of boys and girls alike as our class set about to decide which type of ring would be honored by carrying the class insignia. Undaunted by the superb acting of their predecessors, juniors eagerly tried out for the Junior-Senior Play, and swept into nine roles, major and minor, the result being eight new Thespians.

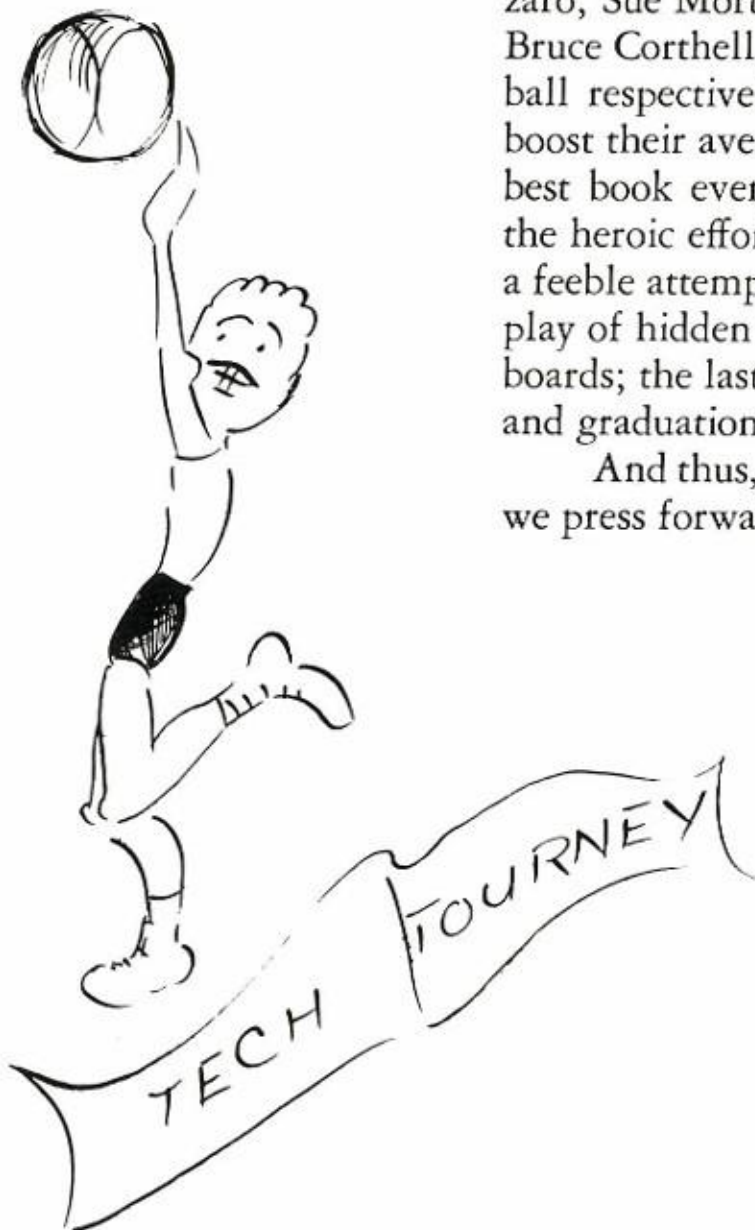

Then came the high point of our year, the class was honored by having a few of its most deserving members placed on the National Honor Society. We could not draw the curtain on this year without recalling for one last time how our basketball team, made up of all juniors, won the Middlesex League crown and entered the Tech Tourney; how we weren't the least bit surprised when we found that two members of our class, Prep Keyes and Joan Flaherty, were the best looking boy and girl in school; how we pondered over which of two photographers, each equally unknown to us, would take our class pictures; and how the girls' eyes gleamed as they eyed the boys and the boys eyed their pocketbooks wondering whether or not they could afford to attend that first prom. And so we came into our own. But the best was yet to come. The time was fast approaching when we would have full sway over the school, when we would be high and mighty seniors.

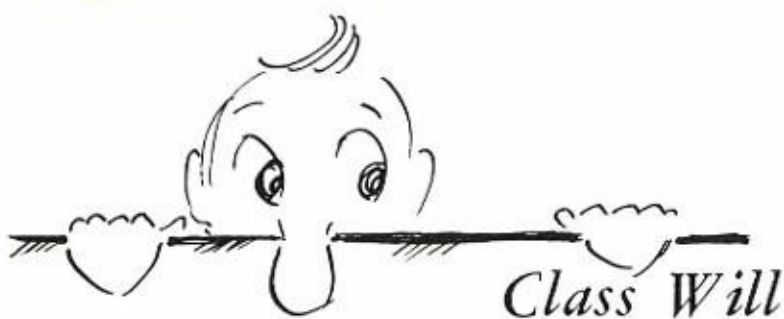

Now would the school truly feel the mighty impact of our brilliance! How could one forget our indomitable football team led by Dick Errico and Joe Donlon; our invincible cross country team paced by Charlie Murphy; our vigorous and capable class officers, Mike Neagle, Harold Quigley, Mimi Briggs, and Cynny Hill; Mr. Touchdown U. S. A. making his debut at the Summer Melodies Dance; Harold Quigley's honorific dissertation on the Red Feather; our four new teachers, Mr. Burns, Miss Walsh, Miss Blackstone, and Mr. Finnegan; Jan Collins and Charlie Murphy winning the Mansfield-Wheeler Cup; Doug Hawkins and Tom Gallagher representing us at Boys' State and Sona Norian at Girls' State; our novel record-hops after the basketball games; the superb performance of our championship basketball team captained by John Di Iorio; the energetic gesticulations of our vivacious cheerleaders led by Jannie Lynch and Dotty Lazzaro; Sue Morton leading her racketeers to many a victory; Doug Hawkins and Bruce Cortell, John Di Iorio and Dave Dalton as co-captains of track and baseball respectively; Dinie Greer, the homerun queen helping her softball team boost their averages; the unremitting efforts of the Aberjona Staff to give us the best book ever; the fulfillment of Doc Alley's dreams of a new physics lab; the heroic efforts of Carole Ambrose to go on with the show despite laryngitis; a feeble attempt to renovate the school by installing new lockers; the annual display of hidden talent in the form of Vaudeville Show; the anguish over college boards; the last and best prom; and finally the thrilling realization of class night and graduation.

And thus, having left our indelible impression upon the history of W. H. S., we press forward to greater heights.

DOTTY LAZZARO
BOB TRAUT
HAROLD QUIGLEY

We, the Senior Class of 1952, having completed four fatiguing, brain-taxing, nerve-wracking, over-exerting, and almost endless years of high school, realize that as a result we will very shortly no longer be of sound mind and body. Therefore, we do hereby announce by publication our last will and testament, disposing and apportioning our varied possessions upon the poor unfortunates who shall most likely follow in our footsteps.

I, Carolyn Buracker, leave my style of affected sophistication to Nancy Ross.
 I, Maureen Dee, leave to my shadow, Bev Ambrose, my uninhibited and original personality.
 I, Decky Dellicker, leave my wide assortment of African sandboots to Walter Barstow.
 I, Ron MacKenzie, leave my smooth and suave style of fascinating the girls to Stu Thompson.
 I, Bob Johnson, will my grace and subdued, yet constantly amiable personality to Kit Carleton.
 We, Sonny McLaughlin, Dave Fessenden, and Loyal Wright, leave our 5 a. m., battle-scarred hockey sticks to our up and coming successors, Bobby McLaughlin, Curty Ryan, and Dave MacKenzie.
 I, Henry Hooper, leave all my well-worn and beat-down ticket stubs to Mr. Curtis.
 I, Pauline Cossari, leave for John.
 I, John Farrell, leave with my bag of tricks to follow in the footsteps of Bob Cousy.
 With utmost sorrow, I, Cynny Hill, leave Miss Anifantis.
 I, Buddy Aulls, a rebel in good standing, leave the North to the "Damn Yankees."
 I, Annette Barbaro, leave my golden curls to Sally Cunningham.
 I, Mike Neagle, leave my vim and vitality to invigorate to those juniors who throw next year's parties and open houses.
 I, Mimi Briggs, leave on the first train for the nearest naval station.
 I, Earl Carrier, leave my generous bombardments and verbal barrages to my protege and under-study, brother Binx.
 I, Jan Easton, leave my double-jointedness to Barnum and Bailey.
 We, Jack Moore, Sooky Mirak, and Winny Smith, leave our ceaseless amalgamation to Kevin Richardson, Roger McTighe and Leo Spang.
 I, Janet Macaulay, renowned accompanist, will my piano stool to Jock Willis.
 I, Carle Zimmerman, leave my especially jovial and gregarious disposition and exquisite dry humor to Ted Elliott.
 To the French Department, do I, Dinie Greer, leave only the memory of my unusual knowledge of the French people and my marvelous accent, as I am sure they will be necessary to me in later life.
 I, Joan Flaherty, leave the stardust in my eyes to Lila DeTeso.
 We, Jim Fielding and Bob Traut, leave our mastery of the slide rule and the atomic theory to Doc Alley.
 I, Carol Cleaves, leave my complete belief in the proverbial "hook, line, and sinker" to Barbara Hammett.
 To my brother, Willy, do I, Gerry Cox, leave the enormous fortune I amassed by gaining access to the Winchester Theater at half-price.
 I, Jan Collins, leave the stupendous Girls' Point System to Helen Carroll.
 I, Bruce Corthell, leave to my apprentice, Kent Wright, my big three—cars, cards, and women.
 We, Ruth Marvin and Mary Lou Morgan, leave our extraordinary absence record to Joyce Thomas, Sandra Thomason, and, of course, the office secretaries.
 I, Audrey Smith, will to Becky Benson my conscientiousness for completing all responsibilities assigned me.
 I, Don Swanson, will my easy going and pleasant manner of living to Ted Harrigan.
 I, Todd Wallis, find it necessary to leave to all the artists of W. H. S. only the hope of drawing such exact and marvelous caricatures as I have, since I have found no one who has reached my summit in this field.
 We, Madame Genicot's third year French students, regretfully leave Room 16.
 I, Pete Sharon, bequeath my moldy cigars to Mr. Weafer.
 We, Moe O'Connell, Bugs Smith, and Lynne Stevens leave our tremendous versatility in sports to Cally Callahan, Sunny Smith, Cie Moses, and Ann Hooper.
 I, Dud Samoiloff, leave only the remembrance of my hilariously faultless Cockney accent.
 As ex-captain of Cross Country, I, Charlie Murphy, will my perfectly formed, long-distance legs to my successors, Bob Nelson and Les Godwin.

To all promising knitters do I, Pat Bradley, leave my fastidious cabled sweaters.
 We, Georgia and Milton Brown, leave our cultivated drawls to Steve Yale.
 To Nick Fitzgerald do I, Roland Carlson, refuse to leave my shy mannerisms, knowing he has no need for them.
 I, Sandra Davis, leave my figure to Mr. Butters.
 I, John Dilorio, by popular demand of the "green and white," find it impossible to leave my celebrated hook shot.
 I, Looper Long, leave my Space Cadet Uniform to John Atkinson in hopes that he may continue to add to the Medals of the Moon.
 I, Dawn Horn, will to Kay Serratore my cherished queenly crown.
 To the championship football team of 1951, do I, Prep Keyes, deposit the memory of my cracked rib.
 I, Carol Crockett, regretfully leave Miss Carroll's office.
 Unwilling to tear myself away from it, I, Jost Michelsen, take my "Fan Club" with me to college, where I'll undoubtedly put it to good use.
 I, Bill Sipp, leave my seat in Room 13.
 I, Dave Keniston, leave my rippling muscles and solid body to Jim Griffin, so that he may continue to mow down the gridiron opposition.
 I, Bill Carleton, leave my over-extensive and well-versed loquaciousness to Damon Mezzacappa.
 We, Jackie Chapman and Joan O'Neil leave our "nimbleness with the brush" to Gloria Mucera and Jenny Meigs, knowing that they will continue to adorn the halls of W. H. S. with scenic touches.
 I, Gretchie Daschbach, leave my perpetual smiles and sunny disposition to run around inside the light bulbs and brighten up the classrooms of W. H. S.
 I, Midge Dexter, leave my easy grace and style of walk to Bev Brown.
 To Howie Amundsen do I, Dick Errico, leave my oratorical genius.
 To Bob Taylor do I, Dyna Lentine, will the space once occupied by my two front teeth.
 Possessing the most happy-go-lucky outlook in the senior class, I, Carole Ambrose, leave this desirable trait to Laura Snow.
 We, Betty Moss and Paula Lanigan, bequeath upon Beverly Anne Murphy, our alacrity in gaining new friends.
 I, Doug Hawkins, leave my fascinating ability to catch all rebounds above everyone else to Norm Howard and Neil Muncaster.
 We, the seniors of '52, leave for the future classes of W. H. S.—new lockers, cafeteria trays, the new physics lab, the constant rush for Epics and history books, the fragrances from the chem lab, the usual hopes for a brand new high school, and the memories of our stupendous and brilliant class!
 I, Ruth Peel, leave my flare for possessing an unusual wardrobe to Judy Geerts.
 I, Jack Mills, knight of the roaring road, leave the dust from the whirring wheels of my '88 to settle on the ivy of W. H. S.
 As Editor-in-Chief, I, Carolyn Padelford, leave a copy of the '52 Aberjona to the juniors as a lasting reminder of the friendship between our two classes.
 I, Peter Coon, leave my ability with the broom to Max McCreery, that he may continue to sweep the floors for "Bart."
 I, Sue Morton, regretfully leave Room 24.
 I, Dotty Lazzaro, will my famous "Pepsodent" smile to effervescent Liz Curtis.
 We, Sona Norian and Dick Rush, two of the most avid and zealous leaders of the senior class, leave the myriad achievements which we "together" have accomplished during the past four years, hoping that our efforts have added to the prestige and esteem of Winchester High.
 And we, Jannie Lynch and Stowell Symmes together, leave.
 With this final will and testament, we, the 1952 seniors, take leave of this honorable institution, confident that we will not return.

The Student Council

The governing body of Winchester High School has as its officers, President Bill Carleton, Vice-President Phil Ives, Treasurer Dave Pratt, and Secretary Janice Lynch.

The basic objectives of the council are to give the students an opportunity to aid in the administration of the school and to create an understanding between the student body and the faculty.

With the sale of sachem book covers in the fall, the Student Council opened the way for its many and varied activities. It also conducted class elections in October.

Delegates attended the Convention of Eastern Massachusetts Student Council Associations at Beverly. There, Winchester conducted one of the discussion groups with Bill Carleton and Janice Lynch. Representatives were sent to the State Convention at Watertown in the spring.

The Good Government Day elections were managed by homeroom representatives. In addition, the Student Council voted to make a change in the class election rules. The proposed amendment will assure the winning candidate of majority support.

Traffic

Courageous, dependable, alert—that's our Traffic Squad. It takes true courage and determination to face the on-rushing students in the corridors thirty times a week especially during the lunch hour. These boys have got what it takes and have certainly kept the traffic moving smoothly through the corridors after each period. The year was very successful, although the innovation of new lockers did not help to alleviate the traffic congestion in the corridors. The squad made the best of the situation and kept traffic moving as well as they could. Much of the success of this year's squad belongs to Mr. Cooper, the faculty adviser, and Captain "Hank" Hooper who did a fine job in filling-in at vacant posts throughout the school.

National Honor Society

Those who have become National Honor Society members have received the highest honor bestowed upon any Winchester High student. Eligibility in this society requires one to possess the unsurpassed qualities of leadership, service, character, and scholarship. Final membership is decided by, first, the students, and then the faculty. Just five per cent of the junior class and fifteen per cent of the senior class become Society members. The entire procedure is directed by faculty members, Mr. Keeney and Miss Bronson.

Quill and Scroll

It is for the ardent, hard-working journalists that Quill and Scroll was added, in 1949, as one of W. H. S.'s honorary organizations. If one is scholastically in the upper third of the class during either the junior or senior year, and has shown exceptional qualities and accomplishments in a certain field of journalism, the eligibility requirements have been fulfilled. The Society also aids school journalism organizations by constructive criticism and yearly contests.

Red and Black

Now in its thirteenth consecutive year, the Red and Black, the school paper, is still the vocal organ of W. H. S. Opening the year with an early issue, the '51-'52 staff carried the torch until January when it was turned over to a new bumper crop of textbook junior-journalists. Several outstanding innovations were introduced by both staffs in '51-'52: a new size sheet of paper; a new and more artistic nameplate; better news writing, together with Sachem Shorts and the news brief column giving more complete coverage of school news; use of one-type family headlines plus the strategic use of photographs creating an eye-pleasing paper; circulation was increased by the printing of such "exclusives" as four Senior Superlatives each issue coupled with pictures of the seniors. Combining their talents to beat the deadlines for the ten issues and produce worthwhile papers, those who served on the Red and Black staffs found in it an activity well worth the expended time and effort.

Thrift Association

The Winchester High School Thrift Association proudly hangs up another shingle of ninety-nine per cent for the banking year of 1951-52. That percentage is a symbol of financial sense and stands for the full cooperation of the high school students in their recognition of sound saving habits.

Efficiently and sincerely in the background stood Mrs. Stacy. Under her steady influence President Doug Hawkins and Vice-President Phil Gillette found a hard job easy. The association core centers around Jan Macaulay, secretary, Debbie French, Ann Bledsoe, assistants, and typist, Paula Lanigan.

Recognition and thanks are extended to the homeroom bankers who never failed the deadline for getting the money in.

Junior Red Cross

Jack Mills has sailed with his crew through calm and profitable waters this year. Each successive Red Cross drive seems to top preceding ones, as the school generosity has been tremendous. With Jack were Steve Yale, Sue Morton, Tommy Ordway, Roberta Coon, Gloria Mucera, and Adele Mitchell working diligently to bring happiness to many of the sick and indigent in the world. Miss Bronson, the guiding light, has encouraged each representative to do his utmost for these worthy causes.

The Red Cross started the year's work by getting 100 per cent of the enrollment in the school to join the Red Cross; continuing a drive each month, they collected 25 bags of clothing, folded Christmas Seals for the T. B. organization, sent over 3,000 new Christmas cards to Bedford hospital—as well as many packs of playing cards. They also spent $25.00 from the treasury to buy books for the Winchester Hospital.

First Row: B. Colucci, S. Norian, L. Bigelow, J. Moore, M. Dee, E. Cline, J. Geerts, E. Curtis, A. Stranieri, L. Cullen, H. Hertig. Second Row: J. Lynch, D. Lazzaro, J. Macaulay, M. Reid, S. ## Philosophy Club

The Philosophy Club met monthly, led by Mr. Skerry, President Mike Neagle, Vice-President Sue Morton, and Secretary Pat Bradley.

The club's first discussion of the year, Cliques, caused a new advent in the W. H. S. social calendar. A committee, consisting of Dotty Lazzaro, Georgia Brown, Betty Moss, and Betsey Freeman, headed by Milton Brown, was elected to carry into action the purpose of the discussion, namely getting all school groups to mix and have fun together informally. As a result, the club sponsored three extremely popular and successful record hops after night basketball games.

The Philosophy Club also enjoyed other discussions and outside speakers throughout the year.

Library Club

The Library Club started the year with a crew of enthusiastic members. Under the leadership of President Joanne Anderson and her assistants, Vice-President Diane Cooper and Secretary Mary Rhem, the club succeeded in doing the numerous duties which must be attended to in a library. Members filed cards, placed books properly on the shelves, repaired old books and classified new ones. Each club member willingly gave up one study period each week for one-quarter of the year to perform these services for the school. The accomplishments of these students from year to year is a symbol of the great interest each member has in the Library Club.

Curtain and Cue

All the world's a stage and Winchester High is on it with its Dramatic Club, the Curtain and Cue. In addition to this new name which was just adopted this year, a contest was held for the Art Department to design an emblem signifying the club.

In the past four years, the Broadway-ites have taken part in many successful activities, under the able guidance of our versatile faculty member, Mr. Morse.

The club has a large membership which helps in carrying on the varied program. There are four meetings during the year, two of which are business meetings warranting either the election of officers, or a general discussion of plans. The other two either bring in outside talent or a program on some phase of dramatics, such as make-up or lighting.

A successful feature last year was two theatre parties, a repeat performance of which was held this year also.

Something new was tried this year when the Curtain and Cue put on a joint production of "Christmas at W. H. S." with the Glee Clubs and the Modern Dance Group.

Officers were President Midge Dexter, Vice-President Janet Archibald, Secretary Diane Greer, and Treasurer Nicky Fitzgerald.

May the club go on doing more and better things in future years!

National Thespian Society

First Row: D. Greer, E. Carrier, S. Norian. Second Row: M. Dexter, J. Michelsen, C. Buracker, R. MacKenzie, R. Rush, T. A. Morse, J. Archibald.

Since the National Thespian Society's installation into W. H. S. in 1949, 54 students have fulfilled the one hundred hours of work, in any phase of dramatic art, needed to be duly initiated. The Society is a nation-wide organization which bestows honor upon those students who, by giving their time and energy for a successful dramatic production, have met the necessary requirements. A spring initiation added new members to the nine who were inducted in 1951.

Club Cervantes

The Club Cervantes again this year proved itself one of the most active and enterprising student organizations. The purpose of the club is to create interest in the Spanish-speaking countries, and to give Spanish students the opportunity of getting together outside of class. Under the leadership of President Bill Carleton, Vice-President Charles Mirak, Secretary Annette Barbaro, Treasurer Betsey Freeman, and with the able guidance of Mr. Kotkov, the club held one of the most successful dances of the year—The Mexican Hat Dance. Besides this gala affair, several interesting, informative meetings were held throughout the year, with refreshments served after them. One of the members, Jim Fielding, had as his guests for six weeks Joaquin Barbara, an exchange student from Mexico City. Among the other highlights of the year were the annual banquet, held at Masonic Hall, and the spring barbecue.

French Club

Le Cercle Francais, although late in getting started this year, had high hopes and plans. In its first two meetings it was decided that the club should be run by four officers and an executive board consisting of one representative from each class. Those elected were as follows.: president, Diane Greer; vice-president, Dotty Lazzaro; secretary, Paula Lanigan; treasurer, Althea Hersey; senior class representative, Carolyn Padelford; junior class representative, Kinky Nichols, and sophomore representative, Sandra Wittet. The executives made plans for several interesting meetings, which included some amusing games, some French songs and some "bons gouters."

Rifle Club

Rifle Club this year was bigger than ever before. It was under the able direction of Mr. Joseph Aversa, a first year man at the job. This was its fifth year of existence, and the most successful yet. The club officers were President Henry Valcour, Vice-President George DeCamp, Secretary Sally Cunningham, and Treasurer John Wingate. Team captains and executive officers were Scott Cunningham and Carolyn Oxford.

First Row: R. Giacalone, D. Mistretta, A. Barbaro, T. Tallman, B. Traut, P. Dresser, R. Swonger, D. Burke, J. Rogers, K. Cleaves. Second Row: J. Merritt, G. Stratton, N. Ivers, N. Ayer, J. Asaro, D. Rizzo, B. Kleber, G. Neiley, R. Rotondi, B. Gaffney, J. Callahan, F. Procopio, D. Errico, A. Bellino.

Ski Club

The Ski Club was led by a planning board which included Dud Samoiloff, Alison Hersey, Wally Maroney and Debby Fish. In its first meeting the club decided to choose a name and emblem for the club. In later meetings the club planned a ski trip to New Hampshire and arranged a shelf in the school library for books on skiing. At various times during the year the more advanced skiers gave lessons to the beginners of the club.

Science Club

The Science Club began another successful year under the capable guidance of our beloved physics teacher, Dr. Alley. Under the strict parliamentary procedure advocated by Dr. Alley, a nominating committee was chosen, an election held, and the following officers chosen: President, Robert Traut; Vice-President, Henry Hooper; Secretary, Sandra Davis; Treasurer, John DiIorio; Executive Board—Earl Carrier, Douglas Hawkins, Prescott Keyes, James Fielding. The club carried on a varied program including, in addition to the demonstrations, films, and experiments at the regular monthly meetings, the sponsoring of an assembly on fire prevention and trips to the Science Museum and M. I. T. Open House.

Math Club

Getting off to a late start this year, the Math Club held its first meeting in early January. Mr. Butters gave a run-down of the functions of the club and suggested some activities in which the club might participate. Following this introduction the officers of the year were elected. Carle Zimmerman won the presidency and Bob Traut became secretary. Dudley Samoiloff, Prep Keyes, and Henry Dellicker captured the club's fancy with a program of magical numbers, mathematical target practice, and a geometric fallacy.

Plans for the spring include a program upon the derivation and use of calculating machines as well as several meetings in which interesting problems will be presented to the club.

Orchestra

Each year after a good deal of plugging, the orchestra proceeds to blend its tones and enrich its musical abilities more than ever before, and this year's group of twenty-eight musicians has accomplished this with decisive success.

Two "new" instruments were added to the group—an oboe and French horn. The music was carefully selected in order to appeal to both experienced and inexperienced players.

A highlight of the orchestra's season was uniting with the Arlington High School Orchestra to present two concerts during January. Among the pieces performed were You'll Never Walk Alone, by Rodgers and Hammerstein, The Syncopated Clock by Leroy Anderson, and the Grand March from Act II of Aida by Verdi.

Mr. Felmet has given his time, patience, and talent, and, in addition, this year rewarded seven members, chosen by the orchestra, by donating tickets for three concerts of the New England Philharmonic Orchestra.

At the Massachusetts All-State Orchestra held in Framingham, February 14-16, Mr. Felmet, as head of the whole organization, and two members, represented the orchestra.

In the spring the orchestra attended the State Music Festival and presented a public concert.

Officers are Margaret "Bugs" Smith, President; Todd Wallis, Vice-President; Annette Barbaro, Secretary-Treasurer.

Band

Under the untiring leadership of Mr. Fred Felmet and with the help of President Stowell Symmes, Vice-President Todd Wallis, Secretary-Treasurer Fred Wheaton, the band has proved a great credit to our school and town.

The new instruments, bassoon, fluglehorn, oboe, and bass clarinet, have added a great deal. All members are grateful to the parents who worked so hard for the benefit of the band.

Marching behind the baton of Drum Major George Johnson, the band gave pep, encouragement and fight to our football team. Subbing for George, while he was out with a broken ankle, Roger Rotondi did a fine job.

In the spring, the band takes part in the annual public concert, the Music Festival, plays for the En Ka Fair, Memorial Day Parade and other concerts.

Mr. Felmet has worked diligently, and has made music a real pleasure to each band member.

Mixed Glee Club

On Stage, Everyone!

Under the able direction of Miss Anifantis, the '51-'52 Mixed Glee Club is bigger and better than ever. They started the year off by electing Freddie Wheaton and "Moe" O'Connell as their president and vice-president respectively. Jan Macauley, their accompanist, was voted secretary-treasurer.

The Mixed Glee Club had its first chance to prove itself in the Christmas assembly which was put on jointly with the glee clubs, Modern Dance group and Curtain and Cue. They successfully showed what can be accomplished with only two rehearsals a week.

In February, representatives went to the All-State Music Festival in Framingham. In April, they presented a concert for the Parent-Faculty Association. Another successful concert was given in the spring which brought to a close a very worthwhile year for the Mixed Glee Club.

Octette

One big event in the Octette's schedule was singing at Symphony Hall with Barron Hugo's Orchestra for the Metropolitan Police Ball. They dazzled the Masons at two performances; after a fall audition, they were asked to appear on the Mystic Glee Club's spring program. The Octette also participated in the Music Festival this spring, the Spring Concert and in Vau-deville.

Girls' Glee Club

Directed by Miss Eleanor Anifantis, the Girls' Glee Club has performed at the Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies, the Spring Concert, the High School Parent-Faculty Association Meeting, the Massachusetts State Music Festival, and the New England Music Festival. The officers this year are Pat Bradley, president, Sue Morton, vice-president, and Margaret Reid, accompanist.

The Key Notes

A new musical group was introduced to W. H. S. this year. The Key Notes is an extra-curricular activity with members chosen by Miss Anifantis. The group was unusually active for its first year in existence. They collaborated with the Octette in the Christmas assembly and Vaudeville, and took part in the Spring Concert.

Boys' Glee Club

The Boys' Glee Club participated this year in the Memorial Day Assembly and the Annual Spring Concert. The Glee Club featured two outstanding soloists in Brad Johnson and Bob Flaherty. Members took part in the All-State Chorus held at Framingham in February, and the Vaudeville. The group was directed by Miss Eleanor Anifantis with officers President John Farrell, Vice-President Thomas McElhinney, and Accompanist Don MacFeeley.

"Sight Unseen"

The high spot in the dramatics field this year was our class play. Several "old timers," those who have seen many class plays, listed "Sight Unseen" at the top of their list. Recalling some of the hilarious scenes and lines such as Sona's "If there be any entity here tonight . . .," one can easily understand the reason for its success. Carole, as Judith Elliot, certainly did a fine job in keeping "the old ghouls" in hand. Many people remarked about Earl's and Sonia's ease on the stage, particularly the scene in which Earl got a trifle hysterical upon seeing Sir Thomas Rush, Lady Penelope Buracker and Lady Hortense Archibald. Maureen's attempts to hit the mischievous but invisible Mat Rocray added the final touch to the general confusion in the play, making it one to remain in our memories, one of which to be extremely proud.

SPORTS

Girls' Intramural Council

The Summer Melodies Dance began the third year of existence of the Girls' Intramural Council. Miss Helen Carroll advised the organization which aims to promote athletic interests, and pupil leadership, and to improve teacher-pupil relationship. President Jan Collins, Vice-President Betsey Freeman, Secretary Ann Bledsoe, and Treasurer Gretchie Daschbach comprised the Executive Board. In January, the Council sponsored an assembly presenting GIC awards and a guest speaker.

Athletic Association

The good ship "Athletic Association" has been brought safely into port by her skipper, Earl Carrier, and his crew, which had the largest membership of any previous voyage. This was one of the most successful trips—certainly the teams were the most successful! A substantial profit was made at the Fall Sports and Mid-Winter Dances. The money paid for the uniforms that have made the teams of W. H. S. the best uniformed teams anywhere!

First Row: C. Murphy, S. Symmes, M. Smith, C. Zimmerman, Miss Carroll, E. Carrier, Mr. Curtis, Coach Knowlton, J. Easton, S. Morton, J. Lynch. Second Row: G. Mucera, B. Ross, J. O'Neil, S. ## Varsity Club

Bringing back the Springfield gym team to the high school was the major undertaking of the Varsity Club during 1951-1952. For the second time in three years, the team thrilled a packed gym of over 800 enthusiastic fans. The main function of the Varsity Club in school life is to have a working club composed entirely of letter winners, and have them contribute to the job of bettering the school. The Springfield exhibition was held to help the Athletic Association pay for the movies that are taken of the football games each fall. The cost was almost entirely defrayed by the money made this year. The club also holds a dance every year for reasons such as paying for jackets for championship teams. The faculty adviser of the club is Coach Knowlton, and the officers for 1952 were Prep Keyes, President; Charlie Murphy, Vice-President; Jost Michelsen, Secretary; and Frank Carleton, Treasurer.

State Champions

This year Winchester had good reason to be proud of its football team. A team that finished a season undefeated and tied for the Class B championship of Eastern Massachusetts is certainly one worth bragging about. Led by co-captains Dick Errico and Joe Donlon, the team began by defeating Milton 20-0. Winchester's stiffest opposition was met, surprisingly enough, at Stoneham, the score ending 13-6. One of the crucial games was the one with Reading, but all fears, if there were any, were soon dispelled and the final outcome was Winchester 20, Reading 6. The team then effectively crushed its next three rivals, Belmont, Wakefield, and Woburn. Woburn's brief outburst in the beginning of the annual clash was lost in the final score which favored Winchester 34-0. The Woburn game completed the season giving Winchester a total of 246 points over their opponents' 46. Much credit goes to Coach Henry Knowlton and his assistants, Coach Finnegan and Coach Provinzano, for their fine training and coaching. Both backfield and line were good on the defensive and offensive plays. With Quarterback Jost Michelsen calling plays and carrying the ball not many teams could prevent the Winchester touchdowns. One of the best guards, Prep Keyes, was injured in the Framingham game, but his post was capably taken care of by Fred Mottolo. Another guard, Don Rizzo, won acclaim for himself by being selected for the Boston Globe scholastic all-star team. Many of the best players mentioned, such as Bob Johnson, Dave Keniston, Anchor Murphy, will be lost next year. However, there are some very capable lettermen remaining. At any rate next year's captain, Howie Amundsen, will be kept busy trying to equal this year's record.

Cheerleaders

Giving the tonsils a rest.

Winchester High School—rah-rah-rah! This familiar cry resounds far and wide when the Cheerleaders are around—on the football field, on the basketball court, and during their practice sessions. May practices and Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon limbering-up sessions lead up to the big game on Saturday. During the basketball season, they can be heard raising their cheery voices on the landing between the girls' and boys' gym. All this toil is not in vain, though, because Winchester High School can boast one of the best groups of cheerleaders in the vicinity. Although not formally present the girls are usually seen at the baseball games or track meets. The lucky male who accompanies the girls in all their travels is Chief-score-a-whole-mess-so-you'll-win-'em-all III. You know—the mascot.

Field Hockey

Led by co-captains Ruthie Peel and "Moe" O'Connell, the varsity field hockey team compiled a record of three wins, one tie, and two defeats. Center-forward, Anna Fiorenza, and left-inner, Jan Easton, were the leading scorers with five points apiece. Coach Carroll built her team around four returning varsity players. The forward line of wings, Bette Nelson and "Moe" O'Connell, inners, Jan Easton and Gretchie Daschbach, and center, Anna Fiorenza, provided a strong, fast-breaking, scoring attack, which netted fifteen goals in six games. The opposing teams had a hard time getting through the Indians' defense of halfbacks, Ruthie Peel, Jan Collins, and "Bugs" Smith, and fullbacks Lynne Stevens and Sona Norian, and goalie "Cally" Callahan. Only six goals were scored against Winchester. Both defeats were of identical 2-1 scores. The highlight of the season was the selection of "Moe" O'Connell, Jan Easton, and Lynne Stevens to the All-Boston Reserve Team. Twenty-eight J. Vee players led by Captain Ann Hooper enjoyed an undefeated season. The sparkling juniors will step into varsity positions next year with "Cally" Callahan as their captain.

Divisional Champions

The first of W. H. S.'s championship athletic teams in the 1951-1952 season was the cross country team, captained by Charlie Murphy and coached by Mr. Morse. Completing an undefeated, untied season of seven dual meets against Everett Vocational, Woburn, Wellesley, Concord, Essex "Aggies," Revere and Wakefield, the harriers nosed out Wellesley 41-45 to take the Divisional Championship . . . and win jackets. Competing further, the team placed fifth in the League Meet and sixth in the State. The JV's likewise completed a similar season and ran off with their Divisional Championship title.

Girls' Basketball

A basket???

The team started well by winning their first two games with Lexington and Belmont consecutively. The downfall of the season was the varsity's losing to Arlington, 54 to 50. Out of a squad of eighty players, Captain "Bugs" Smith, Jan Easton, Lynne Stevens, and Jan Collins held their end as guards, while Paula Lanigan, Sonny Smith, Sue Morton, Carol Crockett and "Moe" O'Connell racked up scores as forwards. The climax of the season was the night game with a Richmond, Maine, team on February twenty-ninth. This year's Junior Varsity makes next year's outlook bright indeed! Managers were Ruth Peel, Mary Chamberland, and Marcia Kirwan.

Eastern Massachusetts Champions

To no one's surprise, Winchester High School's varsity basketball team swept the Middlesex League this year with fourteen straight victories. Under the inspiring leadership of Captain John DiIorio, the team also continued undefeated through all other games, including Tech Tourney competition. At the Garden, increasing in power and finesse, the team rolled successively over St. Mary's of Waltham, Weymouth and South Boston, reaching a thrilling climax in its victory over "Southie," 53-48, its phenomenal .667 scoring average cracking all Tournament records. Other victims were Portsmouth, New Hampshire, Class A Champs, and Milo, Maine, Class B leaders. The all-veteran quintet won the Eastern Massachusetts Class B Championship, finishing with a record of 25 victories, no defeats.

Coach Ted Bartlett had the satisfaction of coaching his boys to the greatest basketball season in the history of Winchester High School. At forward, behind Captain DiIorio, were Stowell Symmes, Bob Forester, and Pete Coon; at center were Doug Hawkins, who broke the W. H. S. scoring record with 319 points, and Rod Long, and at guard, Charlie Murphy and Johnny Farrell. All these were seniors, but pushing them were a good junior quintet to provide the nucleus for a strong club next year.

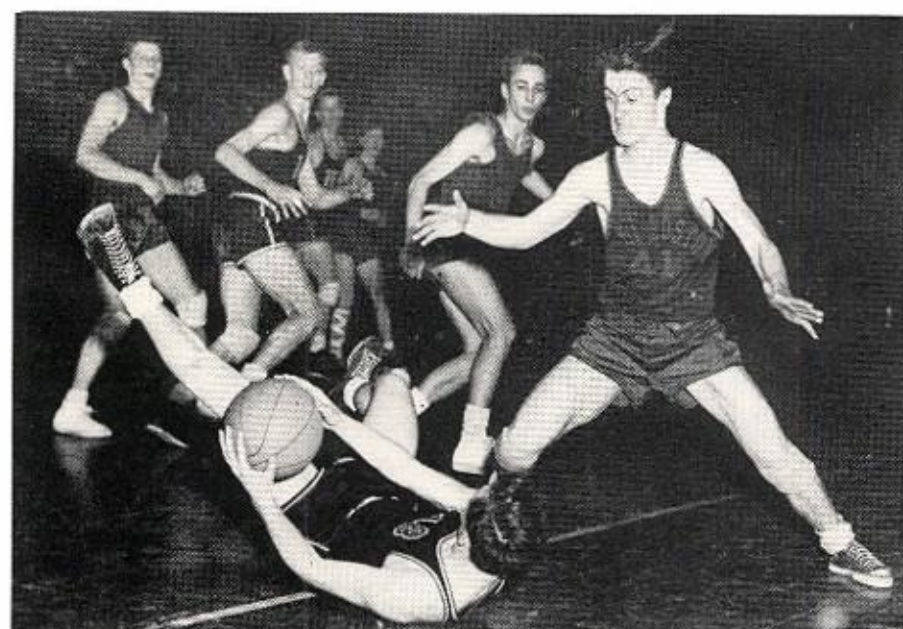

Where she lands nobody knows.

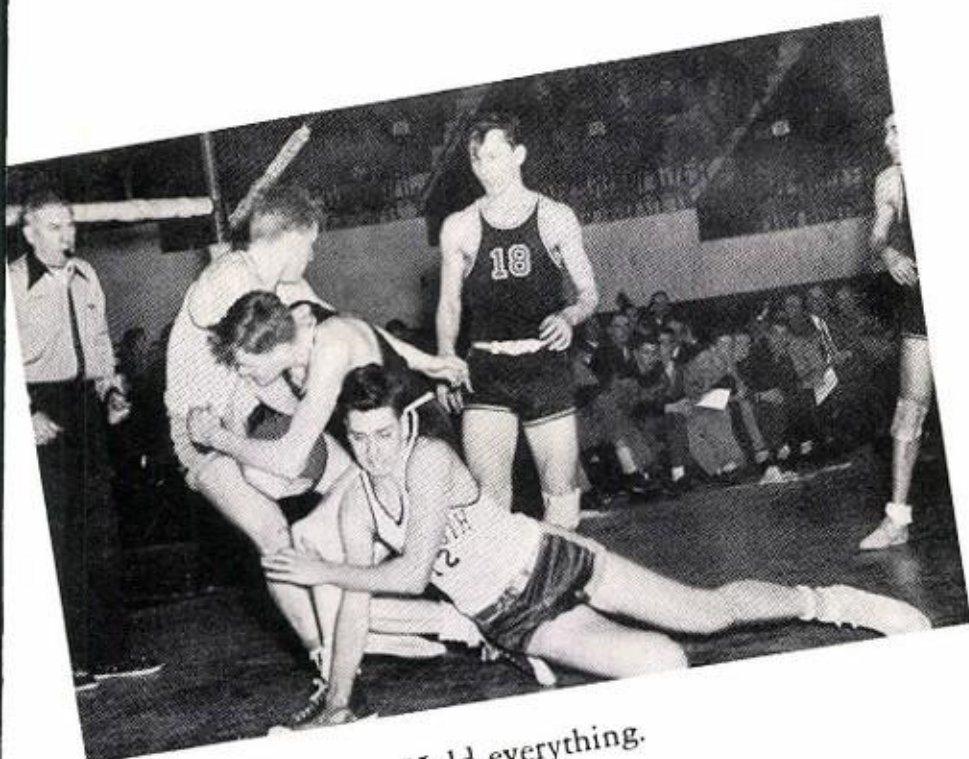

Master strategist at work.

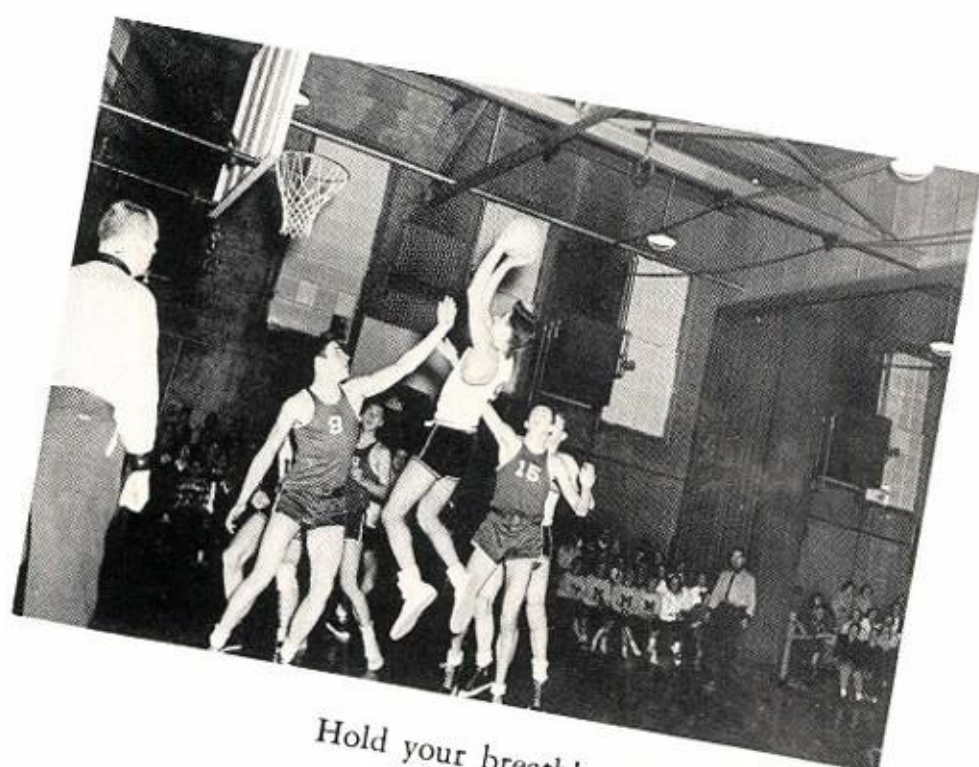

The triumphant finale!

Whoops-a-daisy.

Hold everything.

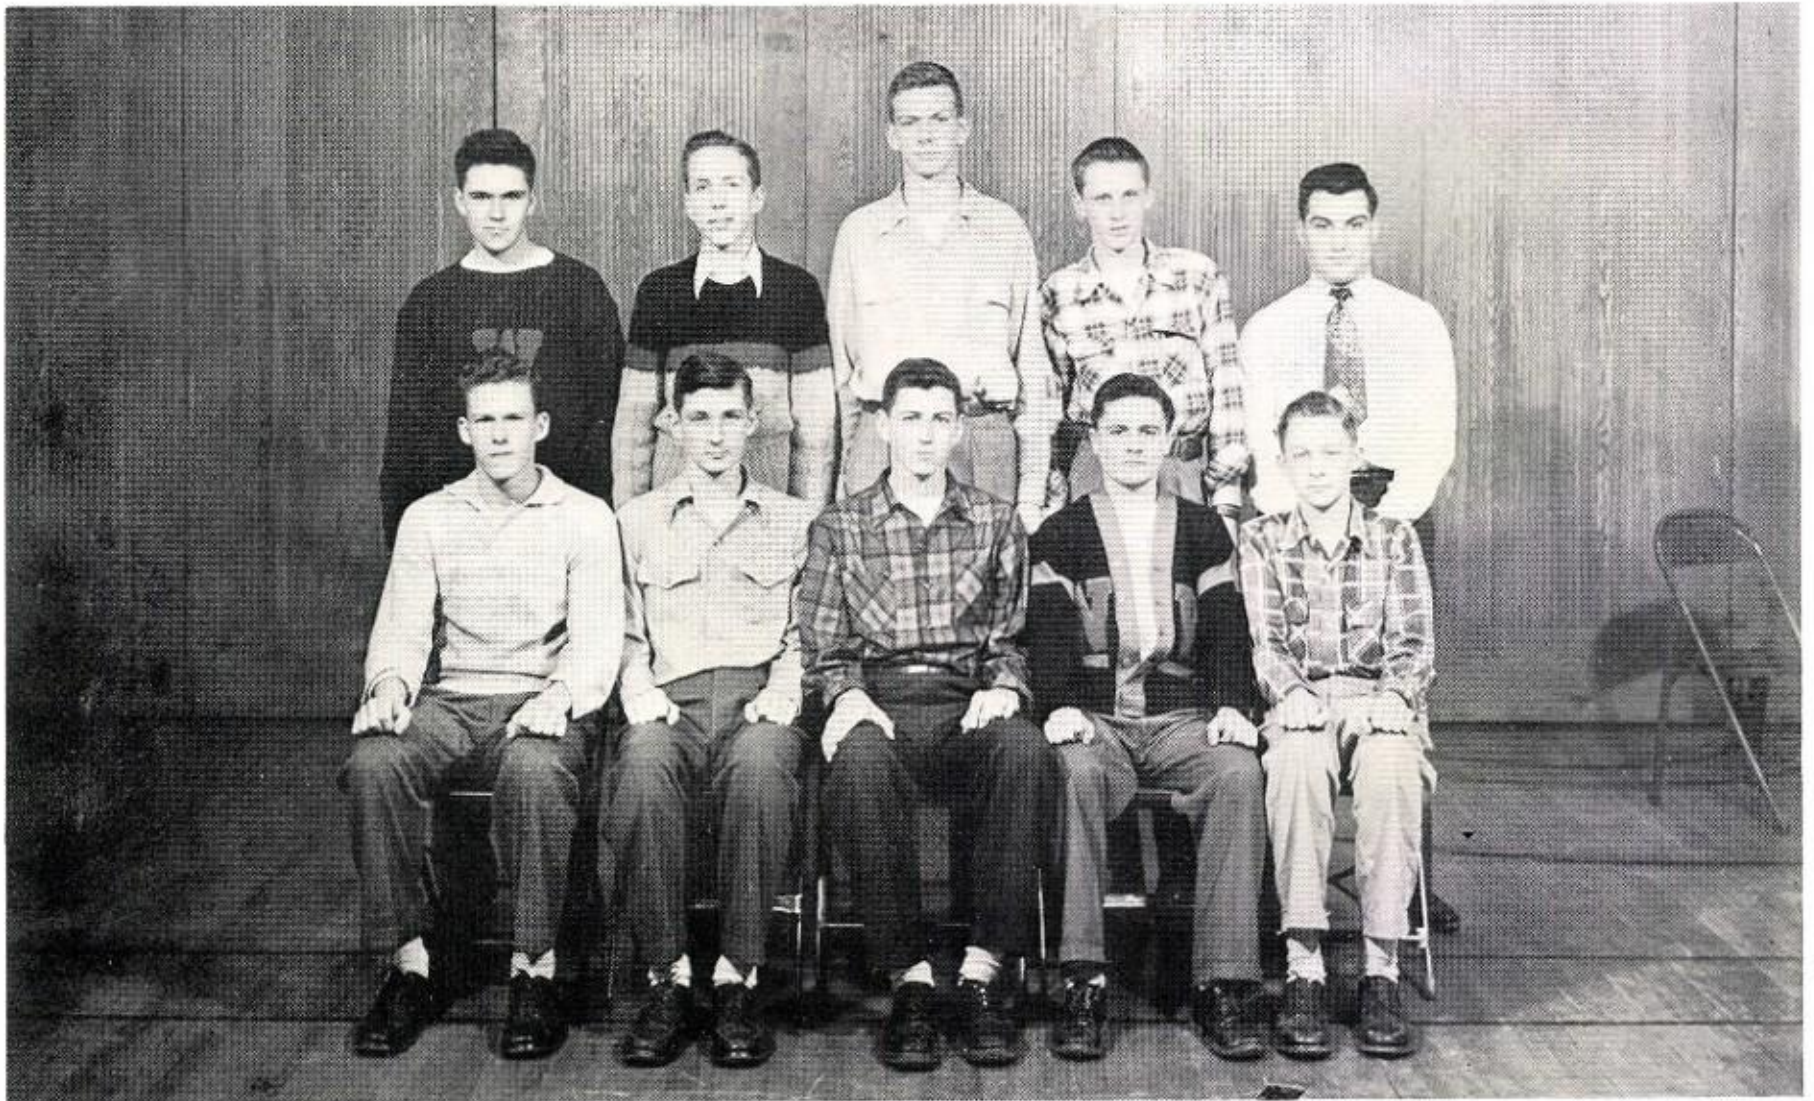

Hold your breath!

Golf

The prospects for this year's golf team shape up very well. With the returning veterans, Captain Todd Wallis, Dave Fessenden, Buddy Gray, Dan McLaughlin, Don Lewis, Bob Willing and others, the team expects a good season this spring. As soon as the snow clears away and weather permits, Mr. "Ote" Leary will have his boys swinging at the Country Club. Later Mr. Leary instructs the team there every Monday and works to perfect the swing and form of each boy. Matches with Arlington, Wakefield, and St. Sebastian's are some of the ones played. A bright feature of the season is the annual match against the faculty, where "Ote" with "Belting Art Butters," "Tom Middlecoff Morse," "Off the Green Ote Jason," and others team up against the hooks and slices of the varsity in an "all out for blood" tournament for the champions of the school.

Hockey

Under its new coach, Bob Mills, the W. H. S. hockey team completed an undefeated season, its record being nine wins, no losses, and one tie. Opening the season was a 10-0 mauling administered to Wilmington. Then very strong Amesbury sextet fought our pucksters to a thrilling 4-4 tie. In two easy games Harvard's Kirkland House and Revere High School were downed by scores of 7-3 and 6-3, respectively. Timely scores by Cowles, MacKenzie, and McLaughlin brought home a 4-2 victory over Charlestown. A strong Lynn English sextet gave Winchester a good fight but came out on the short end of a 3-1 score. Swampscott could put up little fight and was humiliated 13-1. Outstanding performances this season were turned in by Captain Charlie McLaughlin, Ron MacKenzie, Dave Fessenden, Carle Zimmerman, Loyal Wright, Bill Sipp, Dave Burke and Russ MacLeod.

Girls' Tennis

When the robins arrive, the tennis fanatics will be out on the hard courts—chasing balls all over the place—and causing the robins to chatter at their wild actions. Yet the girls are very enthusiastic this year, and expect practice and perseverance will have their ultimate reward. The fall tennis was coached by Dot Hills and Sue Morton. The squad was augmented by fifteen freshmen, of whom Sue Clark, Connie Snelling, Sharon Hartridge, and Del Mitchell qualified for varsity. Our spring team practiced indoors during the winter. As it looks now, Captain Sue Morton, Prue Morton, Betsey Freeman, Sylvia Crowelli, Carolyn Stone, and Cynthia Moses will occupy the top positions on the ladder. They are all aiming high—the State Tournament and New England rankings.

Boys' Tennis

The Boys' Tennis Team of 1952 promises to have one of the better records in recent years. It is composed mostly of younger players, who have good experience, and combined with Coach Fitts's fine knowledge of the game, should really roll. In the fall tennis tournament Jimmy Farrin, a sophomore, showed outstanding prowess as he lost only five games in six sets to become the winner of the singles. There are many very promising freshmen this year including Ken Williams and Lanny Keyes, loser only to Farrin in the singles final. Captain Charlie Mirak will lead the returning upperclassmen with such able supporters as Dave Russo, Phil Gillette, Tony Apsey, Joe Canty, and George Gange. The season will be composed of the usual matches and will close with the State Tournament. A feature of the season will be the trip to the Exeter Tourney which will be held in Exeter, N. H.

First Row: D. MacKenzie, P. Gillette, J. Canty, C. Mirak, G. Gange, D. Folke's. Second Row: Mr. Fitts, J. Farrin, D. Mezzacappa, R. Apsey, P. Fisher, S. Weston, R. Bingham.

Girls' Softball

Coach Elenor Granahan of Sargent College will have thirteen veterans returning from last year's undefeated varsity softball team. In the past two seasons the team has compiled a record of fourteen victories and two defeats. Captain Dinie Greer will lead this senior-dominated team. Sonny Smith, who had a 6-0 record last year, and Gretchie Daschbach, who accounted for the other two victories, will provide the backbone of the pitching staff. Cally Callahan will handle their offerings behind the plate. The infield will be ably covered by lead-off batter, Ann Hooper, at first, Dinie Greer, a hard-hitting lefty at short-stop, and Carol Crockett, a steady-playing fielder, at the hot corner. In the outfield Jan Collins, Bugs Smith, and Lynne Stevens, three hard-hitting, good fielding, strong-armed players will patrol the wide open spaces. Jan Easton, Paula Lanigan, Kinky Nichols, and Sheila McGowen, who all saw some service last year, will battle it out for the keystone sack position and will provide strong depth for the team.

Capt. John DiIorio

Baseball, 1952

With at least one season apiece under their belts, the varsity letter winners of last year's highly successful team will be striving all out for the Middlesex League Championship which they are favorites to win. With their two leading pitchers, Charlie Murphy and Stowell Symmes, back, and an infield composed of Co-Captain John DiIorio at first, Charlie Mac-

Capt. Dave Dalton

Laughlin or Co-Captain Dave Dalton at second, Bobby Flaherty at shortstop, and Ron MacKenzie at third, the defense will be excellent. Patrolling the outfield will be Jim Griffin, Prep Keyes, and Jocko Serieka, "Pepperpot" Pete Coon will be behind the bat for his second year, and Charlie DeFillipo will be again filling in. In the race for the championship, Reading will again be the team to beat. This year for the first time the J. V.'s will have their own coach, Frank Provinzano.

Track

Led by Bruce Cortrell and Doug Hawkins the 1952 W. H. S. Track Team looks forward to a highly successful season. With several returning lettermen from last year, this year's team should equal the fine athletic record made by the other athletic teams of 1951 and 1952. The squad should be particularly strong in the field events. The high jumpers this year will be outstanding boys like Bruce Cortrell, Dud Samoiloff, Bob Johnson, and Joe Donlon, all being returning lettermen. In the shot put Doug Hawkins and Jost Michelsen are returning lettermen. In the broad jump Tom Wilder and Louis Ackerman are tried and proven. In the sprints Captain Cortrell, Fred Wheaton, Nick Fitzgerald and Tom Wilder have shown great promise. In the 440 Doug Hawkins has a great chance to set a new school record. In the distance races Dick Rush, Henry Hooper, Les Godwin, Bob Nelsen, Pete Sharon, and newcomer, Jack Moore, should do well.

First Row: F. Wheaton, D. Palladino, H. Morgan, A. Bellino, A. Lindsey, T. Cahill, P. Fisher, L. Godwin, T. Sullivan. Second Row: Coach Knowlton, L. Ackerman, C. Zimmerman, J. Michelsen, H. ## The Modern Dance Club

The Modern Dance Club was divided in two groups, an apprentice group and an advanced group. The two groups worked together to do interpretations of "Twas the Night Before Christmas" and "Winter Wonderland" in the Christmas program. The advanced group, which was made up of juniors and seniors, were the only part of the club that took part in the vaudeville although the apprentice group kept on practicing the skills for the rest of the year.

Tumbling Club

The Tumbling Club, first organized four years ago, has grown rapidly into a large and active group. Tryouts for this year's season were held in February when sophomore, junior, and senior girls had to pass specific requirements in order to become a member. They had to perform a well-executed forward roll, backward roll, headstand, cartwheel, and twosome stunt. Following these tryouts a group of outstanding tumblers were chosen to participate in the annual Vaudeville skit under the able guidance of Miss Carroll.
